President's Message

Dear Colleagues:

My time with AHHRA thus far has been a wonderful professional experience.

I have had the opportunity to network with like-minded individuals and share new experiences.

As Human Resources professionals (especially in Healthcare) we have the power to impact lives daily.

We are no longer just about personnel management; we can use our talents to positively influence organizational performance.

Go forth and unleash your POWER!

Recap: 2016 Spring Seminar on “The Joint Commission HR Standards and Preparation for Compliance”

This year’s Spring Seminar set the stage for an interactive panel discussion on “The Joint Commission HR Standards and Preparation for Compliance”. Senior Human Resources Executives served as panelists and discussed their experiences navigating recent Joint Commission surveys at their respective institutions. Each year The Joint Commission looks for something specific, this year the focus was Patient Satisfaction and Employee Engagement. Approximately fifty (50) Human Resources professionals were given insightful tips, feedback, and best practices on how to prepare for a successful Joint Commission survey.
